Support for the amendment to claim 4 is found in original claim 1 and in the specification at page 1, lines 25-29.

New claims 7-11 have been added. New claim 7 corresponds to and is supported by original claim 1 and the specification at page 6, line 15 to page 7, line 7. New claim 8 corresponds to and is supported by original claim 2 and the specification at pages 4 and 5. New claim 9 corresponds to and is supported by original claim 3. New claim 10 corresponds to and is supported by original claims 1 and 4 and the specification at page 1, lines 25-29. No new matter has been added.

I. Rejection under 35 U.S.C. § 112, Second Paragraph Claim 6 stands rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 112, second paragraph for being indefinite. Applicant has obviated this rejection by canceling claim 6.

II. Rejection of Claim 6 under 35 U.S.C. § 101

Claim 6 stands rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 101 for improperly reciting a process claim. Applicant has obviated this rejection by canceling claim 6.

III. Objection under 37 C.F.R. § 1.75(c)

Claim 4 stands objected to under 37 C.F.R. § 1.75(c) as being of improper dependent form for failing to further limit the subject matter of a previous claim. Applicant has obviated the rejection by amending claim 4 to delete the compound presently at component (a) and to replace it with “at least one oxetane compound” as recited in the previous claim 1 from which claim 4 depends. Accordingly, Applicant respectfully requests that the objection be withdrawn.

IV. Rejection under 35 U.S.C. § 102 (e)

Claims 1-3 and 5-6 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102 (e) as being anticipated by Takami (U.S. Patent No. 6,166,101; hereinafter “the ‘101 patent”). Claims 1-3 and 5-6 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102 (b) as being anticipated by Takami et al. (U.S. Patent No. 5,721,020; hereinafter “the ‘020 patent”). Applicant has obviated this rejection by amending claim 1.

Claim 1 (as currently amended) is directed to a curable composition wherein the composition comprises at least one multifunctional hydroxy compound that is not a wax. Applicant respectfully submits that the multifunctional hydroxy compounds listed on page 6, line 15 to page 7, line 7 are not waxes.

As the Examiner points out in the Office Action at page 4, the ‘101 patent teaches that the coating composition may further comprise a lubricity-imparting agent, “for example, a wax such as a fatty acid ester wax which is an esterified product of a polyol compound and a fatty acid, silicone oil wax, fluorine-based wax, polyolefin wax, animal wax and vegetable wax.” (Column 13, lines 21-36). Likewise, the ‘020 patent teaches a lubricity-imparting agent (D) that includes, “for example, waxes such as fatty acid ester wax (which is an ester of a polyol compound(s) and a fatty acid(s)), silicone-based wax, fluorine-containing wax, polyolefin wax, animal wax, vegetable wax and the like.” (Column 11, lines 16-23).

Unlike the presently claimed invention, there is no mention or teaching in either the ‘101 or the ‘020 patent of a curable composition that comprises at least one multifunctional hydroxy compound that is not a wax. Accordingly, since the ‘101 and the ‘020 patents fail to teach each and every element of independent claim 1 of the present invention, the ‘101 and the ‘020 patents cannot anticipate independent claim 1 or its dependent claims. Applicant respectfully requests that the rejection be withdrawn.

CONCLUSION

Applicant believes that the present application is now in condition for allowance.
